NAAC ACCREDITEDHEALTH CAMPS

Dr Ulhas Patil Medical College and Hospital's health professionals conduct medical camps to provide health interventions to the community. The patients go to these camps in order to receive free medical care. Each and every person should get the proper type of health examination, taking into account several essential factors such as age, lifestyle, family history, and hazards.

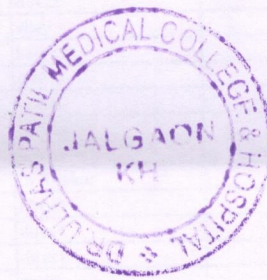

Health camps are organized by Dr. Ulhas Patil Medical College and Hospital and are located in both rural and urban population of the Khandesh region. For health checkups, doctors, surgeons, residents, interns, nurses, and paramedical staff members visit villages. Clinically diagnosed or screened individuals receive treatment at health camps. Patients who require additional diagnostic testing are moved to the hospital. The departments of medicine and surgery organize a number of health camps.

In health care camps, all physicians, nurses, and other healthcare professionals take part. Dr Ulhas Patil Medical College and Hospital in Jalgaon, Kh, is receiving praise from the community for its health care camps and initiatives.
