Q1M The Institution has effective welfare measure for teaching and non-teaching staff.

The Institution has effective welfare measures for teaching and non-teaching staff.

Godavari Foundation, Dr. Ulhas Patil Medical College and Hospital Jalgaon aspires to be the pinnacle of excellence in health science education via realistic planning and implementation by caring management, achieving the Vision and Mission's aims and objectives. Dr. Ulhas Patil Medical College and Hospital Jalgaon, as a Godavari foundation, has a well-formulated staff welfare policy in place for employee awareness and efficient execution of welfare initiatives at work.

1. Campus accommodation:

The provision of on-campus housing is provided to guarantee that medical professionals and trainees have access to emergency services. Accommodation is provided for doctors, nurses, physiotherapists, and maintenance workers based on their availability on campus.

2. Transport facilities:

College bus service is offered from surrounding local train stations/bus stops to campus.

4. Free Health care facilities:

All hospital personnel, as well as their family members, are entitled to free health care. Employees and their family members are entitled to free diagnostic examinations such as MRI, Angiography, CT SCAN, and expert advice. All staff, teaching and non-teaching, are entitled to maternity benefits, child care, and free covid therapy.

5. Free school facilities: College and hospitals staffs (teaching and non-teaching) we are support for free school facility for employees children's in our English medium school in Bhusawal. As a result, many parents are forced to seek additional help to monitor their children while they are at work.

6. Day Care Centre: The majority of homes in today's culture have a family dynamic in which both parents must work. It is practically hard for most Indian households to make ends meet without two sources of income. As a result, many parents are forced to seek additional help to monitor their children while they are at work. "These days, couples must negotiate complicated issues such as job, family, child care, and housework. It becomes clear that, although traditional marriage has been a relationship built on mutual reliance for ages, modern marriage is not. Our
